Welcome to the new brochure for EAC English Language Centres! We're delighted to present our range of courses and locations for the 2012/2013 season.

It's been an exciting year for EAC and we are delighted to welcome Janie Burt to EAC as Managing Director. Janie has over 20 years' experience working in junior educational travel, both in the UK and abroad.

The summer of 2013 will be EAC's 21st summer in operation and we are confident our courses are better than ever. We've spent the last year listening to what our students, group leaders and agents have to say.

We hope our courses will continue to encourage our students to experience everything they can whilst learning English - both inside and outside the classroom.

Why eac for 2013?

Our management and operations teams and our centre staff have worked all over the world delivering quality education and travel experiences to customers. Supported by a team of dedicated finance and administrative staff, you can be sure your students are in safe hands.

Our Promise

Efficient, effective education and a team who care

Our Commitment

Student Welfare

The welfare of our students is the most important aspect of every course we design and every centre we operate. EAC is a founder member of Young Learners English UK and works hard to raise the standards of all junior vacation courses in the UK.

Supervision

EAC operates a full tuition and activity programme and students are kept busy throughout their stay! In accordance with British Council guidelines, all students under the age of 18 are supervised at all times. No student is permitted to leave the centre unless accompanied by either a member of EAC staff or their group leader. After evening activities, homestay students will return to their hosts in pairs, or accompanied by a group leader or member of staff. In the event that a student needs to return home alone, EAC will arrange a taxi to take them (please note that this cost is to be paid by the student or group leader themselves).

Our Staff

Our staff are all experienced with working with young people and all our teachers hold TEFL or equivalent qualifications (for example PGCE in primary education or modern foreign languages, with EFL endorsement); they have enthusiasm and passion for teaching English as a foreign language. EAC staff complete an intensive training programme at the start of each season and have regular appraisals.

Individual students are assigned a mentor when they arrive at a centre, who will be responsible for their care and support throughout their stay.

Academic Quality

EAC's academic team work hard to produce educational, task-based syllabuses for our language courses in line with British Council requirements. We make every effort to tailor courses to the educational needs of our groups, and design activities appropriate to the age range in question and students are grouped in classes according to age and language level. In certain centres we are also able to offer courses specifically for 16-19 year olds.

Our Services

Customer Service

EAC are proud of our dedicated team of colleagues, both in our centres and operations teams, and behind the scenes. We aim to respond to every query from an agent, group leader or student within one working day.

Programme

EAC provide a full six or seven day programme of tuition (normally 15 hours over five days), excursions and activities during our winter, spring and summer vacation courses, ensuring the students are fully occupied during the daytime and evening. Throughout the rest of the year, we offer a standard accommodation and tuition programme, and provide a bespoke service for excursion programmes and afternoon and evening activities.

Accommodation

Homestay: In certain centres students may choose to stay in homestay accommodation with carefully selected local hosts. Students will normally eat two meals a day with their hosts, and will usually share a room with one other international student (some single rooms are available on request at a supplement, but are not normally available during our busier summer period).

Residences: EAC offers residential accommodation in a wide variety of campuses and schools. Standard rooms will share bathroom facilities and typically range from two to six beds. En-suite rooms are available in some centres and will normally be either single or twin rooms.

Transfers

EAC are always happy to arrange transfers to and from the airport and our staff are available to help as soon as a student arrives. In case of any delays or problems, EAC have an emergency telephone number which is answered by our staff 24 hours a day.

Our English Courses

EAC understands that most of our students study English every week in their own schools and our years of experience have helped us to create courses that allow students to build on their language learning experience, providing opportunities to develop their confidence in an English-speaking environment. EAC teachers follow the Communicative and Task Based Learning methods of teaching – we believe that our students learn best by doing!

Building Basic Skills

All of our lessons focus on developing a student's communication skills; especially speaking and listening. Reading and writing are also an integral part of the course. We appreciate that different students may have different needs and adapt our lesson materials to both build on students' strengths and develop their weaker areas.

Cultural Learning & Understanding

Where possible, students are placed in mixed-nationality classes. They are encouraged to communicate in English at all times—both in class, and outside the classroom environment. Students build both self-awareness and understanding of other cultures through taking part in lessons with multiple nationalities. In addition to our teaching materials, EAC teachers take care to use examples of Anglophone culture to explain lesson points, and our staff use every activity and excursion as a learning opportunity!

English Through Experience

Part of every week will be spent completing project work based around a specific task—this might be to develop a new product, or write a new TV show, for example. We also ask our students to take part in various English language activities when on local visits or excursions. All excursions are guided in English.

Testing

All students are tested on arrival, and then organised into classes. At the end of the course, students are presented with a certificate and report, which uses the Common European Framework of Reference (CEFR) to highlight their progress. Students studying the Advantage Programme are also able to take the Trinity exam during their stay, if they wish.

Accreditation

EAC's summer vacation language courses are accredited by the British Council—our most recent inspection was in 2012. We are also members of Young Learners English UK and have a representative on their committee.

The Advantage Programme

Students receive 20 hours of English language tuition on EAC's Advantage Programme, giving them the chance to take part in an intensive course focusing on language awareness and analysis and exam preparation. Twice a week the students participate in Language Workshops, which will focus on a particular aspect of English language or literature and encourage debate, creative and formal writing skills and understanding of language in context.

Intensive Study with Advantage

The two-week course will take place at EAC London Bridge, EAC Edinburgh Queen Margaret University and EAC Bath and all individual and group students are welcome. The course is designed for students of an intermediate level and above; we may be able to accept students of a lower language level on request, but they will be given tasks appropriate to their level.

The Advantage Programme can be also arranged around the specific educational needs of a group travelling together at any time of year.

EAC truly believes that students often improve their confidence in using English when they need to speak in a real-life environment; English Plus courses allow a student to combine classroom lessons with professional sports coaching, conducted only in English.

Students will receive fifteen hours of English lessons and eight hours per week of coaching over four sessions. In addition to these sessions, students take part in a full excursion and evening activity programme with students attending other courses at the centre. We advise all students to take part in a Plus Sports course for a minimum of two weeks in order to receive the full benefit of the coaching.

Plus Football (EAC London Cobham)

Students will receive eight hours per week of coaching, with UEFA qualified coaches and trainers, at EAC London Cobham - one of the most successful British boarding schools for sport. The course is suitable for students of all football abilities, including beginners, and focuses on all key skills and techniques used in the game.

Plus Horse Riding (EAC London Cobham)

Students will receive eight hours per week of horse riding tuition, covering both aspects of the riding itself and stable management. Staff will work on building a student's confidence and technique; this course is only suitable for students who have some experience in horse riding.

Age range: 9-16 years
Start dates: 7th July, 14th July

Plus Rugby (EAC Bath)

EAC are proud to be working with Bath Rugby Club, one of the UK's most successful Premiership teams, to offer coaching in one of the UK's most popular sports. elegant surroundings of Edinburgh's New Town – close to the main shopping streets and all of Edinburgh's central attractions.

Students stay in homestay accommodation with carefully selected local hosts, within easy travelling distance of the centre.
